Defence Minister States Policy

Gen. McNaughton Against Conscription for Overseas; Favors Voluntary Plan

ARNPRIOR, Ont., Nov. 6.—(CP)—Gen. McNaughton, who became defence minister after the resignation of Col. J. L. Ralston, said in his first public speech here yesterday, "I favor the continuation of the voluntary system of enlistment in Canada. Indicating he opposed conscripting home defence troops for overseas, the General said he was "firmly convinced that the best hope lies in the maintenance of our long traditions of voluntary service."

Speaks Tonight

McNaughton May Announce Plans To Secure Men

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—(AP)—An hour after his voluntary service speech in Arnprior, Ont. yesterday will be given before a Canadian Legion gathering here tonight by Gen. McNaughton, newly-appointed defence minister.

Unlike yesterday, Gen. McNaughton has no prepared manuscript to speak from tonight and indications are that he will speak extemporaneously.

Answering a veteran yesterday on why he did not introduce conscription, the General indicated he would discuss other phases of his voluntary service program tonight. He said that in the time allotted to him at Arnprior he would discuss the whole problem of reinforcements and the fate of the home defence forces.

GIVE DEFERRANCES

This was taken to indicate that tonight he would outline when his program of recruiting volunteers differs from the one which his predecessor, Col. J. L. Ralston, tried to carry out.

It was understood that while Gen. McNaughton's chief objection to conscription is the possible conscription to national unity, he also feels a practical objection presents itself.

This objection is that there isn't time to start the legislative machinery to start conscription overseas and he feels he can get sufficient numbers of men by the use of his method of recruiting whereby the younger generation would be made.

Improvements Will Increase Tax Assessment

Considerably more than $2,500,000 will be added to the city's tax assessment roll in 1945 through improvements to city property and new home building that has been carried out during the year.

It was estimated by a city assessor's office building permits this year, up to Oct. 31, totaled $5,200,346, of which amount approximately 50 per cent will be placed on the assessment roll. In addition there is the backlog of wartime houses, for which permits were taken out in 1943, and which were not completed in 1943.

It is estimated by Maxwell C. Dwyer, city architect, that approximately 300 of the 917 houses being built this year, will not be completed, and only a partial amount of the assessment on these houses will go on the tax roll.

Since 1939 there has been a steady increase in the assessment roll, and during the past year approximately $7,800,000 has been added to it. With the $2,500,000 addition expected next year, this figure will be well in excess of $10,000,000.

Veterans Planning Protest Meeting

Plans are being formulated by war veterans and their dependents to hold a mass meeting in the Memorial Hall next Tuesday to protest against the announcement of Gen. H. A. G. McNaughton, minister of defence, that there will be no conscription of Canadians for overseas service.

Even more active than the veterans themselves, have been the dependents of men now overseas in protest of the announced stand of the new defence minister. It was reported here Monday.

Plans are expected to be completed within the next day or two for holding the meeting, when an announcement as to the time will be made.

On Zombie Issue

Overseas Troops Await Decision By McNaughton

NOT YET ACUTE
The figure on reinforcements showed Canada could safely count on some short period yet before there is danger of the situation becoming acute. And now the need was known by the confidence men and women will come forward to serve that they will take up the long tradition of home defence to the support of our gallant comrades overseas.

His speech confirmed the general belief his view on the voluntary system would be the government's policy which gave rise to a cabinet crisis which resulted in Col. Ralston's resignation.

With the general indication the voluntary system would solve the reinforcement problem, the question is to become of the home defence forces remains unanswered.

Hope See Premier

The best conjecture is that the largest number of them will be held in service for use if the voluntary system fails. Others may be seconded to essential civilian work.

Infantry, Armor Heavy Fighting Rages In Budapest Suburbs

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Furious fighting rages in the suburbs of shell-torn Budapest today as heavy Russian infantry forces joined armoured vanguards which had penetrated the defence of the Hungarian capital from the north and south on the east side of the Danube river.

The Germans said they had captured the East Prussian town of Gollub 19 miles inside Germany, after surrounding it place. The Russians at midnight reported that Soviet tanks had attacked and destroyed it.

Behind Nazi Lines Zealous Italian Patriot Aids City Officer, Party

CSENATICO, Italy, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Silvio Ricci was to work in the municipal building here in Csenatico the other day, a demolishing job with an ambition that reached its fulfillment when he let his farmer's boots on the last of the impressive steps vanishing into the building.

For the first time, a boy Silvio wanted to work in the municipal building. But year followed year and he went on being a farmer and living in his humble little home in the village of Villa Marina. The stroke of destiny that started Silvio on his way was launched originally by a Canadian military brigadier. The Canadians had rolled their tanks and infantry into the Lombardy plains, had found that their flat, close lowlands made the job for Forward Observation artillery officers virtually impossible.

Behind Nazi Lines
The brigadier, Kingston, Ont., professional soldier who is No. 1 gunner in the corps, decided the answer was to send two F.O.O. parties behind the German lines with wireless sets to report back on the situation.

Under Capt. Sid Turner of Toronto, and W. H. Ward of Edmonton, 19 Canadians and two Italian liaison officers were put ashore on the Adriatic coast one September night. Finding themselves in the midst of a gun area, they hid for hours the first day near a main highway through with traffic. It was there that Silvio Ricci found them.

Reveals Russia, U. S., Britain Have Planned Secure Peace

By JUDSON O'QUINN

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Germany is "on the verge of catastrophe," Marshal Stalin declared tonight in an address in which he said Russia, the United States and Great Britain have "made plans for a secure peace."

"It is not enough to win the war, but we must make any future war impossible," the premier declared before a Moscow throng commemorating the 27th anniversary of the Russian revolution.

He hailed the invasion of France as the operation which enabled the Red army to drive the Germans from Russian soil and declared that 120 German divisions had been destroyed during the year.

In a dramatic review Stalin proclaimed:

"The United Nations face an undoubted victory. But a firm peace is not yet secured. New wars must be made impossible."

NEED ORGANIZATION

"The only way is to create a special organization of the United Nations to present peace and security, give it armed forces and make it responsible to apply them immediately to prevent any aggression."

Allies Get Attack Base Nazis Smashed Back to Maas

By JUDSON O'QUINN

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Assaults by Field Marshal Montgomery's 21st Army group flattened the German line back to the Maas (Meuse) river for 25 miles to the sea and forced a firm base today from which the next offensive can be launched.

The 1st Canadian and British 2nd armies were declared by a British army spokesman to have reduced the strength of the German 15th army to less than half in the campaign which overran southwest Holland and freed the approaches to the great Belgian port of Antwerp.

Makes First Speech

Gen. McNaughton Against Conscription for Overseas, Says Voluntary Plan Best

ally audience of about 1,000 which included veterans of both the First World War and the present conflict. He reached the section dealing with his reinforcement policy Gen. McNaughton spoke liberally and with great emphasis. He said:

"I have read and studied the reports from our officers in the field—I have read and studied the suggestions and proposals made by our officers here—and I am firmly convinced that the best hope lies in the maintenance of our long traditions of voluntary service. We have had this from the earliest days of this war."

"We had it in the last war when we changed, and then we gained no benefit in time to be of use. We have had it long before in other wars in which we had to fight in the defence of our homes and kin and kin."

HONORABLE OBLIGATION

"We have built the systems of discipline in our army on the principle of an honorable obligation voluntarily assumed. That army went through the very difficult and the very long time of waiting for the time to strike. It was the high purpose of the men—their devotion to the great cause—they they carried had taken up which gave us the strength to carry on to victory."

"You will I know forgive me if I stress to you the importance of this great advantage we have now have and understand, I am sure the anxious thought I have that they should not be lost in any way."

"The figures of the reinforcements now available show that we can safely count on some 300,000 men before they are needed to carry on the defence of the situation becoming acute."

"I think that there is no need for our public of the great need as I now do. I know their deep interest, and I am confident that, now the need is known, our men and women will come forward to serve—that they will take up this honorable obligation and rally to the support of our gallant comrades overseas. I hope that the public of Canada, knowing the urgency, will give them every support and encouragement."

GIVEN HEARTY CHEER

The audience gave him a hearty cheer when he entered, when he was introduced, when he finished and the veterans gave him three cheers and a threefold shout after meeting personal address regarding their support for his voluntary plan.

His formal speech was interrupted by applause and cheering once. That was when he made his first reference to the urgent need for reinforcements.

"When he finished he thanked the audience 'from the bottom of my heart' for their warm welcome and he told them their 'kind reception' of his remarks would be an encouragement 'that you and I can see this thing through to a successful conclusion in a matter of days'."

Later he explained to men in the audience that there was an urgency for his voluntary recruiting campaign to get started and it was this, early as he was referring to when he said "in a matter of days."

After he stepped from the platform he leaned over the front row of seats where Canadian Legion members were grouped. He scanned the veterans with a serious intention and asked them to support him in getting the younger generation to take up "this honorable obligation" and volunteer for active service.

"TAKE BULL BY HORNS"

Later, as he was preparing to leave he felt his coat tugged and wheeled around to face Lieutenant Jimmy Geddes, a 32-year-old discharged gunner with three years overseas experience in this war. He wanted to know why the general didn't "take the bull by the horns" and inaugurate a program of full conscription.

The general, speaking mildly, told the native Scot now living in this Ottawa valley town that it was a national issue on which there were two sides and he had no doubt that Jimmy's opinion was "an honest one, honestly expressed."

Geddes insisted that conscription was the only answer and he wanted the General "to give the embryos short shrift." The General said he hadn't been able to deal with all phases of the topic, but he would have something more to say at a veterans' meeting in Ottawa Monday.

The two grained at each other—the former gunner enjoying the situation being able to talk up to his old field commander and the General obviously enjoying getting a quick, forthright reaction to his first speech.

EXPLAINS REASONS

Geddes explained to reporters he had just asked the question to let the General know "the strong feeling of the boys overseas." "The General has already given me an answer when he asked for confirmation of the volunteer system, but I just wanted him to know that we all don't agree with him," he added.

Before making his speech the General had reviewed troops from the nearby Potomac military camp—35 per cent of whom were home defence draftees.

INTENSIFIED RECRUIT DRIVE IS EXPECTED

ANAPRIOR, Ont., Nov. 6.—(CPI)—An intensification of the Canadian Army recruiting drive was believed imminent following Defence Minister McNaughton's address here yesterday in which he stressed that he favored continuance of the voluntary system of enlistment in Canada.

Expressing opposition to conscription, Gen. McNaughton said figures showed Canada could safely count on some 300,000 men before they are needed to carry on the defence of the situation becoming acute."

ACCEPT OBLIGATION

"I think there is time to tell our public of the great need as I now do. I know their deep interest, and I am confident that, now the need is known, our men and women will come forward to serve—that they will take up this honorable obligation and rally to the support of our gallant comrades overseas. I hope that the public of Canada,

"He got so used to sleeping in fox-holes... that's the only place he can rest."

LONDON, Nov. 6.—(CPI)—Robots, launched from German planes over the North Sea, were directed at Southern England and the London area during the night, but apparently only a few penetrated the ring of defences.

Blow to Unity Seen If Draftees Sent Overseas

QUEBEC, Nov. 6.—(CPI)—Justice Minister St. Laurent said in an address Saturday if members of the cabinet, during the meetings preceding Col. Ralston's resignation as defence minister, had adopted "one line of action" then "national unity would have received a destructive blow in such a way that it might have taken decades to rebuild it."

He addressed the Lapointe-Drouin Liberal Club.

Mr. St. Laurent said that if the federal government had decided to send draftees as reinforcements overseas, "the majority of people in Quebec would have deemed themselves deceived by their English-speaking compatriots."

"It would have been a disaster, something extremely serious for the Canadian nation," he added.

Speaking of Mr. Ralston, who was succeeded as defence minister last week by General McNaughton, former commander of the Canadian Army overseas, Mr. St. Laurent said:

"Mr. Ralston, a great Canadian who is worthy of the admiration of all Canadians, has visited the battlefields overseas and upon his return has communicated to his cabinet colleagues reports of an extremely serious nature."

Mr. St. Laurent said that members of the cabinet held different views but that "all are anxious to serve Canadian interests and those of all the United Nations fighting the evil powers."

"Somebody was needed who could no longer co-operate with us while we, also in conscience, could not accept what he had recommended to us to do."

"Somebody also was needed who make a successful crash landing despite damage to the port aileron and the hydraulic system."

Canadian members of the crew included Flt. Sgt. R. N. Kirkman 11006 106th Army, Edmonton, and bomb aimer, Flt. Sgt. G. D. Bruce, Winnipeg, navigator.

David Beath, since January, 1951, division master mechanic, Canadian Pacific Railway, Calgary, has been promoted to the position of district master mechanic, Saskatchewan district, with headquarters at Moose Jaw, in a series of changes announced by E. G. Bowie, superintendent of motive power for CPR western.

Mr. Beath was division master mechanic at Moose Jaw before going to Calgary. He joined the CPR at North Bay in 1901.

Behind the scenes, The Prime Minister has succeeded in finding that man who, because he built up our Canadian army, was worthy of the confidence of its leaders and soldiers, that man who can not be suspected of acting otherwise than in the interest of the nation."

Infantry Units Most in Need Of New Troops

By JAMES MCCOOK
OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—(CPI)—A prospective shortage of the ordinary man in khaki was seen last night by authorities as the basic reason behind the resignation of Hon. J. L. Ralston as minister of national defence.

The overall picture of army manpower overseas is said to be good. That means there are enough soldiers to maintain Canada's fighting strength in the field. But sources in touch with military affairs said that as Canadians fought through Italy, France, Belgium and Holland casualties have been heavy among ordinary infantrymen with the loss of rolling out Germans in close combat fighting.

RESERVES NEEDED
When Col. Ralston and his supporters said that conscription for overseas should be applied, they were understood to have argued that additional reserves of non-specialists were needed. They were met with the argument that men now serving in specialist branches of the army where casualties have been heavy might well be transferred to ordinary infantry duties.

This was not accepted as a solution by the pro-conscriptionist group, who said the needs of the war were changing constantly and they could not afford to switch men from posts for which they have special qualifications. At some time the knowledge might be essential in winning battles and if they were not at hand the cause would suffer seriously.

The cabinet crisis gave rise to speculation that the 1st Canadian Corps on the Adriatic might be transferred to the western front. But this was not considered feasible by military circles.

B.C. Social Credit To Be Reorganized

VANCOUVER, Nov. 6.—(CPI)—Reorganization of the present British Columbia Social Credit group into a provincial section of the national association will be the chief business before the three-day convention opening in Vancouver Nov. 8.

A provincial leader and a section executive will be elected at the convention and a public meeting held. The speaker will be Hon. J. L. Ralston, president of the national body. J. Ernest Gregoire of Quebec, national vice-president, and David Ure, member of the Alberta legislature for Red Deer, will also speak.

Convention notices include a form each delegate must sign before being admitted to the convention. The form includes a declaration the person is a supporter of Social Credit proposals.

Edmonton Regiment Sports To Feature Winter Program

Satisfactory progress is being made by the 2nd (R) Battalion, the Loyal Edmonton Regiment, in the organization of sports activities, which, as previously announced, will include hockey, basketball, boxing, softball and volleyball. Capt. Walter Hunter, M.M., the unit sports officer, is in charge of the entire sports program. Entries of a juvenile hockey and basketball team in each of the city leagues have been obtained, and the matter of lining up the teams is now under way.

Corporal Billy Norton has been assigned the task of promoting the boxing and of it and confidence has been expressed that a number of prospective "Jack Dempseys" will soon be in action.

The entire personnel of the company gathered at their headquarters, 401, Saskatchewan on Friday night to participate in the opening event of the training season now getting under way. The men came in from Rose Creek, Chinook and Lamont. The early part of the evening was taken up in outlining the training program for the season, and at the same time, Major F. H. C. Heron, the officer commanding the company, announced a number of interesting features that would assist in maintaining the present enthusiasm in the Reserve army, it being particularly pointed out that, in addition to performing a duty by being a member of the company, it was possible to get much enjoyment out of the training and association with the fellow members.

What is the Secret of Family Health

One family is always healthy. In the next family there seems to be a constant risk.

It used to be customary to blame the condition on heredity. But recent investigations show that heredity depends on living and eating habits.

The underlying cause of low vitality often reveals a lack of vitamins B, and essential minerals derived from the food consumed.

As a result, whole families may be found to be subject to a low condition of health which leaves them prey to nervous and aching pains.

More and more intelligent thinking people are turning to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as a "pick-me-up" to bring them out of a low condition of vitality.

President

J. B. CARSWELL, OBE.

Surplus Assets Will Be Sold By Corporation

War assets Corporation has been appointed appraiser for the Canadian government of all sites and buildings the American government has acquired for military purposes in Canada and which, under agreement between the two nations, are to be taken over by Canada when the Americans declare them surplus. This was made known in Edmonton Saturday by J. B. Carswell, OBE, president of the corporation, here to confer with the Alberta government.

Mr. Carswell announced that because many of these immovable assets and Canadian-owned properties eventually in the declared surplus are situated in the Edmonton area, the corporation will open a branch office here in dispose of these assets as they become available.

"For some time," said Mr. Carswell, "the Edmonton branch office will deal almost exclusively in real estate but its operations may be extended into other fields of war surplus disposal later.

Respecting the recent activities of the corporation, Mr. Carswell stated that its October sales recovered slightly more than one million dollars for the Canadian treasury.

ISSUES WARNING
He warned it would be dangerous for the impression to get abroad that these and other operations of the corporation likely to occur in the near future possess any real measure of relief to the average citizen who is eager to buy such things as knitted goods, office furniture, typewriters, trucks, kitchen equipment and so forth. The quantities of such materials reaching the corporation for disposal are negligible in comparison with the demand and the public must expect little improvement in this situation until the war picture is much clearer than it is today.

Mr. Carswell added that these and all other usable surpluses would be offered to the public as quickly as they became available and, without exception, they will be offered first in those areas where they are declared surplus. Under this policy, goods declared surplus to the corporation in Alberta will be offered for sale first in Alberta and the only goods to be moved out of the province will be those that the market here cannot absorb.

In accordance with its policy, the corporation will sell through established channels of trade within price ceilings established by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board and in accordance with priority ratings of the Canadian government.

Ordnance Workshop Is Reorganized Here
Effective as from Nov. 1, the No. 1 Armored Division Ordnance Workshop will be superseded by a new organization to be known as Headquarters No. 1 (R) Arm. Div. Workshop, and No. 2 Tank Troops Workshop, HCEME.

Light Aid Detachments remain as formerly except that they belong to HCEME, instead of to RUC. The basic rank will be captain instead of private, while dress remains as before except for a change in badges.

In order to accommodate the larger establishment, the entire Comptroller's Office will be required for the unit.

A "circum" section which will be commanded by M. Thompson, later PL-12, RCAF, in charge of radio at No. 2 AUS, will be set up. Work on the section will consist of repair and maintenance of communication equipment. Men familiar with this work are required to complete the establishment.

Trio Remanded
Three persons—Gordon A. Baker, his wife, Blanche, and Pearl Barlow—charged before Magistrate Harold L. Bayne, K.C., Saturday morning with being in possession of morphine, were placed on bail of $2,000 each and the case was adjourned to Nov. 16.

The trio, said to have come from Winnipeg, reserved their plea. RCMP made the arrests.

Coal Production Below Last Year

Although coal production in Edmonton area for the month of September was higher than a year ago, tonnage mined in the district between Jan. 1 and Sept. 30 was 81,500 tons, compared to 82,377 tons, compared to a production report issued Saturday by John Crawford, chief inspector of mines.

There should be a minimum of one full year's course in health in every junior and senior high school.

Coal Production Below Last Year

Edmonton production in September was 22,377 tons, compared to 23,539 tons mined last year, an increase of 244 tons. Total Alberta production of domestic coal for the month also showed an increase, 28,254 tons being mined this year, compared to 27,287 tons mined in 1943.

Production in sub-bituminous and bituminous fields both showed declines from 1943 totals. In September of this year, 81,481 tons of coal

Shortage of Metal Cuts Coin Output

OTTAWA, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Officials at the Royal Mint said Saturday that while they have been experiencing some difficulty in obtaining materials for making five-cent pieces no serious shortage is anticipated. (At Toronto Friday night a bank of Canada official said difficulty in obtaining steel and chrome was limiting production and resulting in shortages in some areas.)

Greater Love

"Greater love hath no man than this . . ."
These words should be inscribed on every stark white cross that marks a warrior's grave.

Yes, they died for you . . .
You were their friend
even though they never knew your name.
For you were Canada to them . . .

You were the hurrying faces they saw . . .
The girl who waved from a passing car . . .
The small boy who watched their train go by.
You were their Canada.

They did not begrudge the price they paid.
They died trusting that you would carry on . . .
Knowing that you would carry on.
You, their countryman.

Can you measure their sacrifice?
Mark it down in dollars and cents?
Judge the value of a man's life blood?

You cannot measure it.
You cannot equal it.
The utmost that you can do is pitifully small . . .

For theirs was the greatest love known to man or God . . .
"That a man lay down his life for his friends."

British War Guests to Canada Take a Last Look Around Before Returning Home

After four years in Canada, John Farmer, and his brother, David, get ready to leave for England.

Drinking her last two chocolate sodas, Mrs. John Turner, an airman's wife, is also leaving to join her husband.

Sitting atop a pile of luggage, Robin MacGilchrist, 4, holds his hands to his bewildered head. His teddy bear keeps him company for the journey.

Now back home in England is Mrs. Maurice Leven, who came to Carberry, Man., when her husband was posted here. She is shown chatting to Sgt. Dick Masie, of Edmonton, Alta.

Shortage of teachers forced the Vermont, Wis., school board to ask Mrs. V. Wilkinson, a farmer's wife, to take the job of teaching its 18-pupil school. Mrs. Wilkinson insisted on taking her four-months-old baby along with her, and here she feeds it while teaching a class.

Dancing played a large part in Yvonne de Carlo's rise to fame and her choice by Hollywood as "the most beautiful girl." Here she is shown in a ballet pose.

CPR's Seventh Victory Loan Observation Car

Attached to the Canadian Pacific Railway's crack transcontinental train "The Dominion", as Canada's Seventh Victory Loan started on October 23, an observation car unique in Canadian railway history left Montreal for Vancouver on the first of three round trips it will make across the continent during the Victory Loan. The roof and upper portion of the car, a standard "Cape" type, is painted in shining bright silver. At the window level, the color scheme changes to a dazzling white. Immediately below, on a rich black background, is superimposed on one side the Seventh Victory Loan slogan in English and French: "Invest in Victory". On the other side is the message: "Buy One More Than Before." The trucks and paraphernalia beneath the car proper are painted a light blue, even to the wheels. And squarely in the centre of the car, on each side, is painted a huge "Flaming Dragon", emblem of the British 8th Army, and adopted for this occasion as the emblem of the Seventh Victory Loan. The car was done over at the C.P.R.'s Angus Shops under the direction of H. R. Naylor, works manager.

A Nest of "Earthquakers"

Probably ear-marked for Berlin or some German industrial centre are these "ant 12,000-lb. bombs at a base somewhere in England as RAF armors get them in

Winter Brings Added Railway Work

There's always work for the sectionmen who maintain railway right-of-way, and the coming of winter brings added tasks such as the erection of snow-fences (as in bottom photo, above). Throughout the west, the Canadian Pacific Railway, on its more than 10,000 miles of track, maintains more than 1,800 miles of such snow-fences, some of them permanent, the others erected on private property, usually farm lands, in the fall, taken down again in the spring to enable the farmer to get back on his land. Some time, in exposed places, three lines of fences are necessary to prevent snowdrifts from blocking the right-of-way. The average prairie snowfall, 12 to 24 feet in the season, would present too great a hazard for the road which drives it into drifts which have to be checked by snow-fences. When snow gets too much for the fences, plows are brought into play to buck the drifts from the track. Wind-pilows and flangers are sufficient to do the job on the prairie, but in the mountains huge rotary plows, like the one shown in top picture, above, tackle the big drifts. At Glacier, where the Canadian Pacific's five-mile, double-tracked Connaught tunnel effects a shortcut through an area where miles of snowdrifts previously protected the line from snowslides, the snowfall averages 33 feet in a season, and the rotary plows, as well as the biggest push-plows have all they can do to handle the situation. Blades of the big rotary plows whirl at 400 revolutions per minute, throwing the snow in a variable maelstrom in either direction from the track.

Glider Makes Air History

Aviation history was made Oct. 24 when for the first time a glider was towed by an auto-gyro. A gyro reduces the length of the runway needed for the take-off, a point that has always been a big headache for aircraft designers. The glider, built of wood and fabric, has a landing speed of 27 miles per hour and can be towed at 100 miles per hour.

It's quite a reach for Field Marshal Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, right, commander of the British ground forces, as, somewhere in France, he pins DSO bar on Maj.-Gen. G. M. Barber, latest general in the British army.

Retiring

F.D.R., Dewey Rest as Bitter Campaign Ends

By C. R. BLACKBURN

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(CP)—

Presidential candidates retired today at Hyde Park and Albany after winding up one of the bitterest campaigns in United States history to win the votes Americans will cast next Tuesday.

Both President Roosevelt, from his family home in Hyde Park, and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate, now in Albany, will make brief, last-minute radio talks Monday evening. Mr. Dewey will speak from New York.

SHORT ADDRESS

Mr. Roosevelt's short address will be during an hour-long broadcast by the Democratic National committee from 10 p.m. to 11 p.m. Monday night.

Mr. Dewey will speak for 15 minutes, starting at 11 p.m.

But the major campaign ended Saturday night with the president's address to the nation, and Dewey's reply. The president's address, broadcast from Hyde Park, was estimated to have been heard by 22,000,000 Americans.

Success or failure at the polls for both candidates is expected to hinge on the electoral vote in the various states, particularly New York which has 46 votes in the electoral college.

LATEST ESTIMATES

Latest estimates among the experts now give the president as many as 332 electoral votes and Gov. Dewey 120. Whichever candidate wins 266 or more electoral votes will win the presidency.

The electoral college number, 537 members, each state being assigned a number equal to its congressional representation plus two presidential electors. The president's majority vote in each state is required to win the presidency.

However, if the voting is close, the final result may not be known until early December because of the varying state laws delaying the final count.

ATTACK IN FORCE

The primary blow, in "substantial force" was against Dewey and his support in the various states.

The presumption was that a main purpose of the campaign was to hammer the editing of the Japanese warships which may have been in that area from the great naval battles in the Pacific.

That theory was supported by the language of the campaign, which mentioned the editing of a "Japanese ship" that was in the drydock for repairs. Other direct hits were directed at a central house at the largest drydock and other points.

Bombing there was visible.

The flight from India bases, was reported by the 30th Airforce as the longest daylight mission ever flown by military planes.

Charge GOP Plans Fake Assassination

MOSCOW, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Izvestia, Soviet government newspaper, in an article headlined "The election of President is guaranteed" said yesterday there was a rumor that Republicans were plotting a fake assassination of Dewey.

One should not forget that history includes a number of such incidents, including the assassination of Communists, which appear on the eve of parliamentary elections in some democratic countries up to the burning of the Reichstag in Germany," Izvestia said.

"Gov. Dewey, reached in Albany had no comment to make on the Russian newspaper's story. President Roosevelt was in session at his Hyde Park home."

New American Attack Bomber Now in Action

TULSA, Okla., Nov. 6.—(AP)—The new A2B invader has gone into battle, the United States army announced Saturday, and has proved itself the speediest, deadliest and most versatile American-built attack bomber in the skies. The report was made to a group of newspaper men invited to the Douglas Aircraft plant where the bombers are being turned out. Details of the plane's speed, firepower and bomb capacity were not released.

France's Assembly Meets First Time Since Liberation

PARIS, Nov. 6.—(AP)—France's revived and enlarged consultative assembly will convene tomorrow on its first anniversary of initial session since the liberation of the country. The assembly last met in 1938.

One of the assembly's tasks will be the drafting of ordinances under which the provisional government will convene a constituent assembly to frame France's future basic law.

British Making Gains in Burma

RANGOON, Ceylon, Nov. 6.—(CP)—British forces driving in to Burma from the west have made further progress along the Tiddim-Tada-U road, the British press announced Sunday. West African troops in the Kaladan area to the south beat off a small-scale Japanese attack five miles north of Prome, the commissaire added.

F.D.R. Admits He Is Anxious To Be Victor

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—(AP)—

President Roosevelt closed his campaign Saturday night, admitted anxious to win, but leaving it to millions of voters to judge between his administration and what he termed "A political party which works both sides of the street."

Mr. Roosevelt said he had been "reluctant" to run but now is "most anxious to win" for the reason that "never before in my life-time has a campaign been so filled with such misrepresentation, distortion and falsehood."

Never since 1928 have there been so many attempts to stimulate in America racial or religious intolerance," the president said.

LAST MAJOR SPEECH

To thousands of applauding Bostonians crammed into Fenway baseball park, and to his countrymen by radio, the president delivered the final major speech of his campaign.

In the same city where Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican challenger, was expected to arrive Wednesday night that communists are seizing the new deal and aim at control of the government, the president asserted:

"When any political candidate stands up and says solemnly, that there is danger that the government of the United States or your government—could be given over to the communists—then I say that that candidate reveals a shocking lack of trust in America."

Police Superintendent Edward W. Fallon estimated 40,000 people were in the ball park.

All day long, in talks at Bridgeport and Hartford, Conn., and in Springfield, Mass., he had been saying he was "very confident" of victory Tuesday.

DEWEY SAYS F.D.R. PROLONGS WAR

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—(AP)—Declaring the war must be won at the home front as well as on the battlefields, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said today that the "incompetence" in Washington "is costing the lives of American men and delaying the day of final victory."

The Republican candidate for president addressed cheering Madison Square Garden crowds in the evening speech program.

In addition to the approximately 22,000 persons inside, Herbert Hoover Jr., Republican national chairman, estimated there were 10,000 outside.

CELEBRITIES PRESENT

Beth Ruth and Adolphe Menjou were among the celebrities who cheered the speaking program.

The New York governor, declaring the war must be won at the home front as well as on the battlefields, declared that the "incompetence" in Washington "is costing the lives of American men and delaying the day of final victory."

Gov. Dewey said publication of "the so-called 'private papers' of treasury secretary Morgenthau 'for disposing of the German people after the war' was 'as good as ten fresh German divisions' to the enemy."

The Morgenthau plan was described in published reports as calling for reduction of Germany to an agricultural state.

Walchen Landing Costliest Assault

PARIS, Nov. 6.—(AP)—The British marine landing at Walchen on the Rhine was one of the costliest attacks of the Western Front, with "several thousand" men killed, supreme headquarters disclosed yesterday.

Twenty of 25 gun-mounting support craft and an unspecified number of troop landing craft were lost to the pointblank fire of German shore batteries, the announcement said.

The landing force had to smash its way ashore because of the giant coastal batteries because at the last minute bad weather prevented the Allied air force from carrying out rocket-firing attacks designed to shield the assault.

Supreme headquarters did not reveal the actual losses in manpower. Although it was likely that the personnel landing craft were probably less hard hit than the gun support boats, it was known that the landing craft suffered heavily.

Private Island Is Bet Against $1,500 for F.D.R.

VANCOUVER, Nov. 6.—(CP)—Paul Lambert of Langford Island, near Seattle, has bet $1,500 that President Roosevelt will be re-elected Tuesday. Mr. Lambert claims a perfect record in 50 years of political prognostication.

He said he will bet $1,500 to entertain soldiers in military hospitals. The island, one of three in Seattle Bay, comprises nine acres of forest land, a well-protected harbor and several beaches.

Clarke was injured seriously when a high-powered grenade exploded in the driver's compartment of a university car carrying a training scheme, it was disclosed Friday at a coroner's inquest. Two men riding in the rear escaped injury.
